MISSION STATEMENT
FOR
RELIGION INDEX ONE: PERIODICALS (RIO)
AND
RELIGION INDEX TWO: MULTI-AUTHOR WORKS (RIT)

It shall be the purpose of RIO and RIT to index those articles in the field of religion--particularly religion and religious scholarship in the West--which are germane to research in and serve to document that field. The intended audience includes scholars, teachers, students who are engaged in the study of religion and related fields; clergy; other religious leaders; and the general reader in religion.

ATLA Index Board
June 1986

Preface

Volume 20 (1988) of Religion Index One: Periodicals (RIO®) has 12,253 author and editor records, 2,227 more than in volume 19 but processed in about the same amount of time. They have been expanded to 34,499 subject entries. Poems and a few articles that would seem redundant in the print copy are in the online database only. Journals received and indexed by March 2 are included. Late journals will be indexed in the semi-annual for 1989 to be published in September.

The Scripture Index, located in the final section, references specific Bible texts arranged canonically. The articles placed there are critical rather than homiletical but do not necessarily duplicate the broader subject headings in the BIBLE section of the Subject Index. There are 946 chapter and verse references, many of which include related verses.

The 22 new journal titles approved by the Journal Selection Committee of the Index Board are interfiled in the Journals Indexed section of the preliminary pages and are also printed in a separate list on page xxi. Of the 463 journal titles listed for full or selective indexing 37 regularly indexed journals were not received and are so marked in the Periodicals Indexed list. Articles from 65 "scan titles," journals that occasionally contain articles conforming to the Mission Statement of the ATLA Index Board are included with the journal title being spelled out in full. Briefly, 491 journals have been processed in RIO Volume 20.

The office move from the Hyde Park area of Chicago to Evanston has resulted in heavier use of the United Library of the Garrett-Evangelical and Seabury Western Seminaries; but we continue to rely on the Jesuit-Krauss-McCormick Library, the Joseph Regenstein Library of the University of Chicago, and the Catholic Theological Union Library of Hyde Park for many of the journals not received in-house. In addition, staff members have indexed at Loyola University, Mundelein College, and Trinity Evangelical Divinity School libraries. Appreciation is expressed to the librarians and staff of these institutions and to the indexers, staff, and the ATLA Joint Executive Committee and respective Program Board's members whose names are listed on the previous pages.
